第 1 段

Wild Bill Donovan would have loved the Internet. The American spymaster who built the Office of Strategic Services in the World War II and later laid the roots for the CIA was fascinated with information. Donovan believed in using whatever tools came to hand in the “great game” of espionage—spying as a “profession.” These days the Net, which has already re-made such everyday pastimes as buying books and sending mail, is reshaping Donovan’s vocation as well.

直译：“狂野比尔”多诺万一定会喜欢互联网。这位美国间谍首脑在二战中建立战略情报局，后来又为中央情报局奠定基础，他对信息十分着迷。多诺万相信，在间谍活动这场“大博弈”中，应使用手边能找到的一切工具；间谍活动也就是作为一种“职业”的谍报工作。如今，网络已重塑买书、寄信等日常消遣，也正在重塑多诺万的职业。

第 2 段

The latest revolution isn’t simply a matter of gentlemen reading other gentlemen’s e-mail. That kind of electronic spying has been going on for decades. In the past three or four years, the World Wide Web has given birth to a whole industry of point-and-click spying. The spooks call it “open source intelligence,” and as the Net grows, it is becoming increasingly influential. In 1995 the CIA held a contest to see who could compile the most data about Burundi. The winner, by a large margin, was a tiny Virginia company called Open-Source Solutions, whose clear advantage was its mastery of the electronic world.

直译：最新的革命，并不只是绅士们阅读其他绅士的电子邮件。这类电子间谍活动已经持续了几十年。在过去三四年中，万维网催生了一个只需指向并点击就能搜集情报的完整行业。情报人员称之为“公开来源情报”；随着网络发展，它的影响力越来越大。1995 年，中央情报局举办比赛，看谁能汇集最多关于布隆迪的资料。以巨大优势获胜的是弗吉尼亚州一家名叫 Open-Source Solutions 的小公司，它的明显优势在于对电子世界的熟练掌握。

第 3 段

Among the firms making the biggest splash in the new world is Straitford, Inc., a private intelligence-analysis firm based in Austin, Texas. Straitford makes money by selling the results of spying (covering nations from Chile to Russia) to corporations like energy-services firm McDermott International. Many of its predictions are available online at www.Straitford.com.

直译：在这个新领域中，影响最大的公司之一是 Straitford 公司，一家总部位于得克萨斯州奥斯汀的私营情报分析公司。它把情报搜集成果 —— 涉及从智利到俄罗斯等国家 —— 卖给麦克德莫特国际公司这样的能源服务企业，以此赚钱。它的许多预测可在 www.Straitford.com 上查到。

第 4 段

Straitford president George Friedman says he sees the online world as a kind of mutually reinforcing tool for both information collection and distribution, a spymaster's dream. Last week his firm was busy vacuuming up data bits from the far corners of the world and predicting a crisis in Ukraine. "As soon as that report runs, we'll suddenly get 500 new internet sign-ups from Ukraine," says Friedman, a former political science professor. "And we'll hear back from some of them." Open-source spying does have its risks, of course, since it can be difficult to tell good information from bad. That's where Straitford earns its keep.

直译：Straitford 总裁乔治·弗里德曼说，在他看来，网络世界是一种能使信息搜集与传播相互促进的工具，正是间谍首脑梦寐以求的东西。上周，他的公司正忙着从世界各个偏远角落大量搜集零碎数据，并预测乌克兰会发生危机。曾任政治学教授的弗里德曼说："那份报告一发布，我们就会突然新增 500 名来自乌克兰的互联网注册用户。我们也会收到其中一些人的反馈。"当然，公开来源情报搜集确实有风险，因为有时很难区分好信息与坏信息。Straitford 正是在这一点上体现自己的价值。

第 5 段

Friedman relies on a lean staff of 20 in Austin. Several of his staff members have military-intelligence backgrounds. He sees the firm's outsider status as the key to its success. Straitford's briefs don't sound like the usual Washington back-and-forthing, whereby agencies avoid dramatic declarations on the chance they might be wrong. Straitford, says Friedman, takes pride in its independent voice.

直译：弗里德曼依靠奥斯汀一支 20 人的精干队伍。其中几名员工有军事情报背景。他把公司体制外的身份看作成功的关键。Straitford 的简报不像华盛顿机构通常那样反复斟酌、含糊往返；那些机构担心可能出错，因而避免作出惊人的声明。弗里德曼说，Straitford 为自己的独立声音感到自豪。

篇章简析

主旨：互联网推动公开来源情报产业发展，私营分析公司凭信息整合与独立判断获利。首句 would have loved 是对已逝人物的假设，不是事实经历。第 4 段说明信息传播又吸引反馈，形成搜集与传播相互促进的机制。机构名与历史网址按所附文本保留。

第 1 段

To paraphrase 18th-century statesman Edmund Burke, “all that is needed for the triumph of a misguided cause is that good people do nothing.” One such cause now seeks to end biomedical research because of the theory that animals have rights ruling out their use in research. Scientists need to respond forcefully to animal rights advocates, whose arguments are confusing the public and thereby threatening advances in health knowledge and care. Leaders of the animal rights movement target biomedical research because it depends on public funding, and few people understand the process of health care research. Hearing allegations of cruelty to animals in research settings, many are perplexed that anyone would deliberately harm an animal.

直译：套用 18 世纪政治家埃德蒙·伯克的话：“一项误入歧途的事业要取得胜利，所需要的只不过是好人无所作为。”如今有这样一项事业，试图终止生物医学研究，理由是动物拥有权利，不能用于研究。科学家需要有力回应动物权利倡导者；这些人的论点正在使公众困惑，从而威胁健康知识与医疗保健的进步。动物权利运动的领导者把生物医学研究作为目标，是因为它依赖公共资金，而且很少有人了解医疗研究的过程。听到有关研究环境中虐待动物的指控时，许多人都困惑不解：怎么会有人故意伤害动物？

第 2 段

For example, a grandmotherly woman staffing an animal rights booth at a recent street fair was distributing a brochure that encouraged readers not to use anything that comes from or is tested in animals—no meat, no fur, no medicines. Asked if she opposed immunizations, she wanted to know if vaccines come from animal research. When assured that they do, she replied, “Then I would have to say yes.” Asked what will happen when epidemics return, she said, “Don’t worry, scientists will find some way of using computers.” Such well-meaning people just don’t understand.

直译：例如，在最近的一次街头集市上，一位慈祥得像祖母的妇女在动物权利摊位工作，发放一本宣传册，鼓励读者不要使用任何来自动物或经过动物试验的东西 —— 不吃肉，不用皮毛，也不用药物。有人问她是否反对免疫接种，她想知道疫苗是否来自动物研究。当被明确告知确实如此时，她回答：“那我就只能说，是的。”有人问流行病重新出现时怎么办，她说：“别担心，科学家会找到某种使用计算机的办法。”这些善意的人只是不理解。

第 3 段

Scientists must communicate their message to the public in a compassionate, understandable way—in human terms, not in the language of molecular biology. We need to make clear the connection between animal research and a grandmother’s hip replacement, a father’s bypass operation, a baby’s vaccinations, and even a pet’s shots. To those who are unaware that animal research was needed to produce these treatments, as well as new treatments and vaccines, animal research seems wasteful at best and cruel at worst.

直译：科学家必须以富有同情心、易于理解的方式向公众传达信息，要用与人的生活相联系的语言，而不是分子生物学术语。我们需要讲清动物研究与祖母的髋关节置换、父亲的搭桥手术、婴儿的疫苗接种，甚至宠物注射之间的联系。对于那些不知道这些疗法以及新疗法、新疫苗都需要动物研究的人而言，动物研究往好处看是浪费，往坏处看则是残酷。

第 4 段

Much can be done. Scientists could “adopt” middle school classes and present their own research. They should be quick to respond to letters to the editor, lest animal rights misinformation go unchallenged and acquire a deceptive appearance of truth. Research institutions could be opened to tours, to show that laboratory animals receive humane care. Finally, because the ultimate stakeholders are patients, the health research community should actively recruit to its cause not only well-known personalities such as Stephen Cooper, who has made courageous statements about the value of animal research, but all who receive medical treatment. If good people do nothing, there is a real possibility that an uninformed citizenry will extinguish the precious embers of medical progress.

直译：有很多事可以做。科学家可以“认领”中学班级，向学生介绍自己的研究。他们应迅速回应致编辑的信，以免有关动物权利的错误信息得不到质疑，并取得一种貌似真实的欺骗性外观。研究机构可以开放参观，以展示实验动物受到人道照料。最后，由于最终利益相关者是患者，医学研究界应积极争取支持：不仅争取斯蒂芬·库珀这样曾勇敢表达动物研究价值的知名人士，也要争取所有接受医疗的人。如果好人无所作为，不了解情况的公众就确实可能熄灭医学进步珍贵的余火。

篇章简析

主旨：作者主张科学界主动说明动物研究与医疗收益的联系，回应反对者。第 2 段以对话展示认知缺口；第 4 段给出具体沟通措施。lest ... go ... and acquire ... 表目的上的防止，含“以免”。这里呈现的是作者为动物研究辩护的立场。

第 1 段

In recent years, railroads have been combining with each other, merging into supersystems, causing heightened concerns about monopoly. As recently as 1995, the top four railroads accounted for under 70 percent of the total ton-miles moved by rails. Next year, after a series of mergers is completed, just four railroads will control well over 90 percent of all the freight moved by major rail carriers.

直译：近些年来，铁路公司不断相互联合，合并成超级系统，引发了对垄断日益加深的担忧。就在 1995 年，前四大铁路公司占铁路运输总吨英里的比例还不到 70%。明年，在一系列合并完成之后，仅四家铁路公司就将控制主要铁路运输企业全部货运量的 90% 以上。

第 2 段

Supporters of the new supersystems argue that these mergers will allow for substantial cost reductions and better coordinated service. Any threat of monopoly, they argue, is removed by fierce competition from trucks. But many shippers complain that for heavy bulk commodities traveling long distances, such as coal, chemicals, and grain, trucking is too costly and the railroads therefore have them by the throat.

直译：新超级系统的支持者认为，这些合并将大幅降低成本，并提供协调得更好的服务。他们说，来自卡车运输的激烈竞争消除了任何垄断威胁。但许多货主抱怨，对于煤炭、化学品和粮食这类长距离运输的重型大宗商品，公路运输费用太高，因此铁路公司实际上扼住了他们的咽喉。

第 3 段

The vast consolidation within the rail industry means that most shippers are served by only one rail company. Railroads typically charge such “captive” shippers 20 to 30 percent more than they do when another railroad is competing for the business. Shippers who feel they are being overcharged have the right to appeal to the federal government’s Surface Transportation Board for rate relief, but the process is expensive, time consuming, and will work only in truly extreme cases.

直译：铁路行业的大规模整合意味着，大多数货主只能由一家铁路公司提供服务。对这种“受制于人”的货主，铁路公司通常比在有另一家铁路公司竞争这笔业务时多收 20%—30% 的费用。认为自己被多收费的货主，有权向联邦政府的地面运输委员会申诉，寻求降低运价，但这一过程费用高、耗时长，而且只有在真正极端的情况下才会奏效。

第 4 段

Railroads justify rate discrimination against captive shippers on the grounds that in the long run it reduces everyone’s cost. If railroads charged all customers the same average rate, they argue, shippers who have the option of switching to trucks or other forms of transportation would do so, leaving remaining customers to shoulder the cost of keeping up the line. It’s a theory to which many economists subscribe, but in practice it often leaves railroads in the position of determining which companies will flourish and which will fail. “Do we really want railroads to be the arbiters of who wins and who loses in the marketplace?” asks Martin Bercovici, a Washington lawyer who frequently represents shippers.

直译：铁路公司为针对受制货主实行差别运价辩护，理由是从长远看，这能降低每个人的成本。它们认为，如果向所有顾客收取同一平均运价，那些能够改用卡车或其他运输方式的货主就会这样做，把维持线路的费用留给其余顾客承担。许多经济学家赞同这一理论，但在实践中，它往往使铁路公司有权决定哪些企业兴旺、哪些企业失败。经常代表货主的华盛顿律师马丁·伯科维奇问：“我们真的希望铁路公司充当市场上谁胜谁负的裁判吗？”

第 5 段

Many captive shippers also worry they will soon be hit with a round of huge rate increases. The railroad industry as a whole, despite its brightening fortunes, still does not earn enough to cover the cost of the capital it must invest to keep up with its surging traffic. Yet railroads continue to borrow billions to acquire one another, with Wall Street cheering them on. Consider the $10.2 billion bid by Norfolk Southern and CSX to acquire Conrail this year. Conrail's net railway operating income in 1996 was just $427 million, less than half of the carrying costs of the transaction. Who's going to pay for the rest of the bill? Many captive shippers fear that they will, as Norfolk Southern and CSX increase their grip on the market.

直译：许多受制货主还担心，他们很快会遭遇一轮大幅涨价。尽管铁路行业整体经营状况正在好转，其收入仍不足以覆盖为跟上猛增运输量而必须投入的资本成本。然而，铁路公司继续借入数十亿美元相互收购，华尔街还在一旁喝彩。看看今年诺福克南方铁路公司与 CSX 以 102 亿美元收购联合铁路公司的出价吧。联合铁路公司 1996 年的铁路运营净收入仅为 4.27 亿美元，不到这笔交易的融资成本的一半。剩下的账单谁来付？随着诺福克南方铁路公司和 CSX 进一步控制市场，许多受制货主担心，最后付钱的会是自己。

篇章简析

主旨：铁路并购提高市场集中度，使缺少替代运输方式的货主面临差别运价和加价压力。文章先呈现支持者理由，再通过 captive shippers 的处境质疑。第 4 段 leaving ... 为结果状语；理论上的成本分担不等于实践中的公平。

第 1 段

It is said that in England death is pressing, in Canada inevitable and in California optional. Small wonder. Americans' life expectancy has nearly doubled over the past century. Failing hips can be replaced, clinical depression controlled, cataracts removed in a 30-minute surgical procedure. Such advances offer the aging population a quality of life that was unimaginable when I entered medicine 50 years ago. But not even a great health-care system can cure death—and our failure to confront that reality now threatens this greatness of ours.

直译：据说，在英国，死亡迫在眉睫；在加拿大，死亡不可避免；而在加利福尼亚，死亡是可以选择的。这不足为奇。过去一个世纪，美国人的预期寿命几乎翻了一番。失去功能的髋关节可以置换，临床抑郁症可以控制，白内障可以通过 30 分钟手术切除。这些进步给老龄人口提供了我五十年前从医时无法想象的生活质量。但即使伟大的医疗体系也治不好死亡；而我们未能面对这一现实，如今正在威胁我们医疗体系的这种卓越。

第 2 段

Death is normal; we are genetically programmed to disintegrate and perish, even under ideal conditions. We all understand that at some level, yet as medical consumers we treat death as a problem to be solved. Shielded by third-party payers from the cost of our care, we demand everything that can possibly be done for us, even if it's useless. The most obvious example is late-stage cancer care. Physicians—frustrated by their inability to cure the disease and fearing loss of hope in the patient—too often offer aggressive treatment far beyond what is scientifically justified.

直译：死亡是正常的；即使在理想条件下，我们也由基因预先设定了会衰败和死亡。在某种程度上，我们都明白这一点；然而，作为医疗消费者，我们却把死亡当作一个有待解决的问题。第三方付款者使我们不必直接承担照护费用，于是我们要求为自己采取所有可能的措施，即使这些措施毫无用处。最明显的例子就是晚期癌症照护。医生因无法治愈疾病而沮丧，又怕患者失去希望，因而过于频繁地提供强力治疗，其程度远远超出科学上合理的范围。

第 3 段

In 1950, the US spent $12.7 billion on health care. In 2002, the cost will be $1,540 billion. Anyone can see this trend is unsustainable. Yet few seem willing to try to reverse it.

直译：1950 年，美国医疗保健支出为 127 亿美元。到 2002 年，这一费用将达到 1.54 万亿美元。任何人都看得出，这一趋势无法持续。然而，似乎很少有人愿意尝试扭转它。

第 4 段

Some scholars conclude that a government with finite resources should simply stop paying for medical care that sustains life beyond a certain age—say 83 or so. Former Colorado governor Richard Lamm has been quoted as saying that the old and infirm "have a duty to die and get out of the way", so that younger, healthier people can realize their potential.

直译：有些学者得出结论：资源有限的政府，应当停止为把生命维持到某个年龄以上 —— 比如 83 岁左右 —— 的医疗付费。据引述，科罗拉多州前州长理查德 · 拉姆说，年老体弱的人 " 有义务死去并让开道路 "，让更年轻、更健康的人发挥潜力。

第 5 段

I would not go that far. Energetic people now routinely work through their 60s and beyond, and remain dazzlingly productive. At 78, Viacom chairman Sumner Redstone jokingly claims to be 53. Supreme Court Justice Sandra Day O'Connor is in her 70s, and former surgeon general C. Everett Koop chairs an Internet start-up in his 80s. These leaders are living proof that prevention works and that we can manage the health problems that come naturally with age. As a mere 68-year-old, I wish to age as productively as they have.

直译：我不会走到那样极端。如今，精力充沛的人通常在六十多岁乃至更高龄时继续工作，而且仍有惊人的产出。维亚康姆公司董事长萨姆纳·雷石东 78 岁时，开玩笑说自己 53 岁。最高法院大法官桑德拉·戴·奥康纳已七十多岁，前卫生局局长 C. 埃弗里特·库普八十多岁仍主持一家互联网初创企业。这些领导者是活生生的证据，说明预防有效，而且我们能够应对随年龄自然出现的健康问题。我才 68 岁，希望自己也能像他们一样富有成效地变老。

第 6 段

Yet there are limits to what a society can spend in this pursuit. As a physician, I know the most costly and dramatic measures may be ineffective and painful. I also know that people in Japan and Sweden, countries that spend far less on medical care, have achieved longer, healthier lives than we have. As a nation, we may be overfunding the quest for unlikely cures while underfunding research on humbler therapies that could improve people's lives.

直译：然而，一个社会在这一追求上能够支出多少，是有限度的。作为医生，我知道最昂贵、最剧烈的措施可能无效而且痛苦。我也知道，日本和瑞典在医疗上的花费比我们少得多，却实现了比我们更长、更健康的寿命。作为一个国家，我们可能为希望渺茫的治愈探索投入过多，却为那些不那么耀眼、但可能改善人们生活的疗法研究投入不足。

篇章简析

主旨：正视死亡的不可避免性，合理分配医疗资源，重视改善生活质量的疗法。第 4 段 I would not go that far 明确拒绝按高龄一刀切放弃照护的极端立场；末段比较的是研究与资源配置的优先次序。
